

The London Paper
Page 15
September 9, 2008

>> art round-up

■ Barbs
A blurry painting of a woman with melting make-up, Barbie dolls and weird, twisted, flesh-like sculptures are all part of this exhibition which centres on the pressure to be beautiful.
Red Gate Gallery, to 25 Sep, 209 Coldharbour Lane, SW9

BARBS
The Three Graces

■ Ewan Gibbs
Brit artist Ewan Gibbs takes photos of New York tourist sites such as the Chrysler, then makes a painstakingly detailed pencil drawing. He said: "I use iconic, stereotyped places and see if I can add something of beauty and meaning."
Timothy Taylor Gallery, to 18 Sep, 21 Dering St, W1

■ Lucien Hervé
The beauty, depth and drama of architecture is captured in the photography of Lucien Hervé, famed for his collaborations with Le Corbusier. See his rare vintage prints.
Michael Hoppen Gallery, to 11 Oct, 3 Jubilee Place, SW3

FRANCIS BACON
Isabel Rawsthorne

■ Francis Bacon
Screaming out from the canvas with raw emotion, Bacon's twisted images are among the masterpieces of the 20th century. This exhibition brings together his best.
Tate Britain, 11 Sep-4 Jan, Millbank, SW1, £12.50